Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 22 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cold but with plenty of sunshine on Monday.

Today:
Monday will be a sunny but chilly day, mostly dry with any early showers for coastal parts tending to die out by afternoon. Winds easing to become light. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Tonight:
Staying dry and clear through the evening, but patchy cloud increasing overnight, particularly in the east. Temperatures dropping away to give some early frost in the west of the region. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Tuesday:
A cold, bright start for most on Tuesday, becoming increasingly cloudy for many through the day. An isolated shower possible for costal parts but generally staying dry. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
A foggy start on Wednesday with some rain later. Turning brighter and colder on Thursday, with a cold start to Friday likely before turning unsettled and wet.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.